- BETTER THAN GOLD!

PORTSMOUTH, July 9, 1851.

Mr. J. E. Bouss-Dear Sir: I feel it a duty to make known the benefit I have derived from Dr. Harapton's VEGETABLE TINOTURE. For a number of years I suffered from disease, but to a greater degree for the last three years. One of the forms of my disease was dyspepsia. From this dreadful malady I suffered to such an extent that life was really a burden. The attack of it on me was different to that on any other person of whom I have heard; at times it was like the palpitation of the heart; there was a constant thumping and beating without intermission about the region of my heart, chest, and stomach; some of the attacks would last for weeks; my stomach was much distended, with constant pain, great weakness, and constipation of the bowels. I could not eat the most simple food without pain. I also suffered greatly from disease of the kidneys, with constant pain in the back, that I could walk only with great difficulty. I tried nearly sil of the most colobrated patent medicines of the day, but found no relief. I had also the best medical attendance. One of my physicians frankly told me it was of no use for me to be paying him for advice, as he could do me no good. I gave up almost in despair, and thought my disease certainly incurable.

At this juncture I heard of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. I refused to give it a trial, although persuaded by my friends, until my son purchased a few bottles, and requested me to try it; after taking it a few times, it had a most happy effect on me; my confidence increased, and after taking three bottles, my dyspepsia, or disease of the stomach, was nearly if not entirely cured. I now feel myself a new man, and in better health than for years. I am certain the cure in my case was made by this Hampton's Vegetable Tincture alone. Since my cure I have recommended the tincture to a number of my friends, who have also been relieved by it. Some of the cures have been as rapid and equally wonderful as mine.

I present my respects to Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray, the proprietors of this valuable medicine, and say to them its value is above pric known the benefit I have derived from Dr. Hampton's VEGETABLE TINCTURE. For a number of years I

(Signed)
John Luke. trial. Yours most respectfully, (Signed) JOHN LUKE.

The above is extracted from a letter from a gentleman sixty years of age, and of high character. He says: "I have given but a faint idea of my sufferings; I feel inadequate to the task." We also have received, in the last few days, letters from two of our most worthy and well-known citizens, giving two remarkable cures of spinal disease. But yesterday one of the oldest merchants reported that he was cured of neuralgia of the head, of years stauding, and so bad that his teeth fell out from its effects. Call and see letters. Was there ever so many cures, wonderful cures, made by any other medicine. All we ask of the afflicted is that they try Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, the great purifier of the blood and cure for all chronic diseases, as dyspepsia, rheumatism, scrofula, and all complaints of the stomach, bowels, &c.

GEORGETOWN, August 30-12 m. Caution to Boys.—Yesterday afternoon, some five or six small boys obtained a small canoe, got into it and paddled out into the river. The boat upset with them, and some two or three who could not swim would have drowned, had not a boat that was near by rescued them,

Inhuman Cruelty .- A man by the name of Castleman, who keeps a store in one of the counties bordering upon the Potomac in Virginia, being robbed, suspected two of his slaves of the theft, and, for the purpose of punishing them for the act, or compelling them to confess, he tied them up and inflicted upon them a very severe chastisement; but, not being satisfied with this, he put a rope around the neck of one of them and swung him up, barely leaving his toes touch the ground, and in this condition he left him. After some time he returned, but, shocking to relate! instead of hearing a confession he found the poor negro a lifeless corpse. An inquest was held over the body, and Mr. Castleman held to bail for his appearance at

The Murder of the Fifty-two. The first narrative of this dreadful affair was the true one, and the after accounts have been trumped up. The following memoranda, published in the New York Express, tell the story plainly, and the writer is entirely responsible: "Arrived at Chagres, and left on the U. S.

Mail steamer Falcon, on the eve of the 11th of August. On the morning of the 16th instant, about ten o'clock, was shot at three times by the small steamer Habanero, brought to, was boarded, &c. The demand made of what ship we were, where from, bound, &c. On bringing to, the insolent minions of the Spanish government took the lead in taking off their hats, shouting, hallooing, &c., at their success in stopping a U. S. Mail steamer with her ensign and mail-flag aloft. A request was made for Captain Rogers to return with the officers on board the Habanero, which he very coolly declined, stating that he was "going into Havana. Arrived at Havana on the same evening, about three o'clock. Boarded by the usual officers, &c. Was immediately informed that fifty-two men were shot, at twelve o'clock, on that day, (forty of whom are represented as Americans,) run down upon the high seas, twenty-five or thirty miles from land, by the same steamer; the survivors taken into Havana, and in a few hours conveyed to the place of execution, insulted on their way repeatedly, by both officers and men, and then butchered in a most inhuman manner, several having been shot at from ten to fifteen times, and then only relieved from their misery by the use of the butts of their muskets: thence dragged out like dogs by the heels and thrown together, their clothes being divided as spoils among the noble (?) victors. BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE,

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE,

AND THE

BRITISH QUARTERLY REVIEWS.

OWING to the late revolutions and counter-revolutions among the nations of Europe, which have followed each other in such quick succession, and of which "the end is not yet," the leading periodicals of Great Britain have become invested with a degree of interest hitherto unknown. They occupy a middle ground between the hasty, disjointed, and necessarily imperfect records of the newspapers, and the elaborate and ponderous treaties to be furnished by the historian at a future day. Whoever reads these periodicals obtains a correct and connected account of all the important political events of the Old World, as they occur, and learns the various conclusions drawn from them by the leading spirits of the age. The American publishers therefore deem it proper to call renewed attention to the works they publish, and the very low prices at which they are offered to subscribers. The following is their list, vis:

THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW,

THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW,

THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW, and BLACKWOOD'S EINDEAGH MAGAINE.

In these periodicals are contained the views, moderately though clearly and firmly expressed, of the three greatest parties in England—Tory, Whig, and Radical; "Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory, the "Edinburgh Review" Whig, and the "Westminster Review" Liberal. The "North British Review" owes its establishment to the last greatecclesiastical movement in Scotland, and is not ultra in its views on any one of the grand departments of human knowledge. It was originally edited by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by Dr. Chalmers, and now, is published and reprinted under separate titles. It has, therefore, the advantage, by this combination, of uniting in one work the best features of both, as heretofore issued.

The above Periodicals are reprinted in New York, immediately on their arrival by the British stemers, in a beautiful clear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals—Blackwood's Magazaine being an exact fac simile of the Edinburgh edition.

Mr. Robert Sears—Dear Sir: I have looked over the entire series of your valuable publications with much interest and profit; and am quite surprised at the amount of literary labor you have performed, and the re-search it must have cost you to obtain so many fine illustrations, while you have an active superintendence of an extensive business. I am also gratified at the decidedly moral and religious influence which your books will exert, am team not but hope that they will do much to counteract the effects of that light and immoral literature which del uges the land, and, like the frogs of Egypt, comes up even to the kneading troughs of our kitchens. May you live kny to follow your plans.
